

Human Rights Studies for 21st-Century Californians

Saturday,
February 3,
9am -12pm
At Fresno
State University

Register
below by scanning the QR Code:

Or by clicking
or typing this link into your browser:

[bit.ly/Fresno
HumanRights](https://bit.ly/FresnoHumanRights)

Upcoming Workshop for Teachers
No cost to participants!

Workshop on how to teach human rights in the context of World War II, the Holocaust and the Cold War using disciplinary literacy to support ELs and students reading below grade level. University credits available.

Featuring a presentation by Professor Keith Watenpaugh and lesson plans designed by local teachers: Ashlee Lidyoff, Washington Unified SD and Nina Jasper, Central USD.

Presenters and Co-Sponsors:

The California History-Social Science Project

Keith Watenpaugh, Professor and Director, the Human Rights Studies Program at UC Davis

Amila Becirbegovic, Assistant Professor in German and Humanistic Studies at UC Davis

Lisa Bryant, Professor of Political Science at Fresno State University