

Integrated Action Civics

SUMMER INSTITUTE

June 26-30, 2023

Come learn about the Integrated Action Civics (IAC) that fosters justice-oriented student voice, agency, and civic empowerment in K-12 classrooms. Central to this approach is the introduction of strategies throughout your existing course to help students understand the process of social change, while offering new lenses for the study of course content. Students can apply their learned skills and scaffolds to engage in meaningful, authentic civic action in their communities.

The IAC strategies also support student exploration of Ethnic Studies concepts of identity, systems of oppression, hope and healing and resistance and change.

The free 5-day institute will include:

- Introduction to Integrated Action Civics for student empowerment
- Strategies for Student self-reflection & growth:
 - Visioning Justice, Worldview, Identity and Power
- Change-analysis models and strategies:
 - Power & Stakeholder Analysis, Strategy Development, Student Advocacy
- Integration of change-analysis into course content
 - Sample lessons, Course scope & sequence planning with examples
- Collaborative planning time

Session (Pacific Time):

- 9:00-noon: Change strategies
- 1:00-3:00: Cohort planning

Register (No cost)

bit.ly/iacp-2023-institute

History, Ethnic Studies, and teachers from other disciplines are invited to attend!

The Integrated Action Civic model was developed by the UC Berkeley History-Social Science Project, and the Santa Clara and San Mateo County Offices of Education in collaboration with K-12 teachers.

Integrated Action Civics Project
iacp@berkeley.edu ~ <https://iacp.berkeley.edu>